GTIS PARTNERS NAMES AMY BOYLE MANAGING DIRECTOR AND CFO

Domestic and International Real Estate Financial Management Pro
Rejoins Firm after Five-Year Hiatus

New York, June 18, 2014 – GTIS Partners LP (“GTIS”), a real estate private equity firm headquartered in New York City, with offices in Los Angeles, San Francisco and São Paulo, today announced it has named Amy Boyle Managing Director and Chief Financial Officer. She replaces former CFO, Grace Cheng.

Ms. Boyle’s responsibilities include fund accounting and reporting, treasury management, taxation, financings and structuring activities. She also oversees financial activities relating to the firm’s management company. Ms. Boyle is located in GTIS Partners’ New York headquarters and reports to Chief Operating Officer and General Counsel, Tom Feldstein.

“I am thrilled about the opportunity to work closely with Amy during this exciting period for GTIS,” remarked Tom Feldstein. “Amy perfectly melds the qualities of a transactionally -minded CFO with a strong foundation in fund accounting and reporting.”

Prior to joining GTIS Partners, Ms. Boyle served as Chief Financial Officer of three publically-registered real estate investment trusts advised by American Realty Capital. Previously, she was Chief Financial Officer for the Clarion Lion Properties Fund, Clarion Partners’ flagship real estate fund. While at Clarion, she also held positions in the finance and portfolio management groups. From 2006-2009, Ms. Boyle was Vice President and Controller at GTIS Partners. She began her career as an auditor for Boston-based public accounting firm, Feeley & Driscoll, PC.

“We’re delighted to welcome Amy back to GTIS, an environment and role she knows well,” said GTIS Partners’ President and CIO, Tom Shapiro. “Amy was a superior financial management professional when she originally worked here. The experience she gained in her subsequent CFO roles will serve us extremely well. We’re looking forward to working with Amy again and to the many valuable contributions she’ll make to our franchise.”

“I am thrilled to rejoin the team at GTIS” said Amy Boyle. “The firm has grown significantly since my departure in 2009, and I continue to be impressed by the foresight the team has in the real estate sector both domestically and abroad. I look forward to working with my former colleagues, and many new ones, as we continue to grow the franchise and offer exciting opportunities to our investors.”

Ms. Boyle holds a BS in Accounting and Management from Plattsburgh State University of New York and a Master’s degree in Real Estate Finance from New York University. She is a Certified Public Accountant.
